MILLARD WEST

Wins Handsome Promotion.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, Tuesday, states that Millard F. West, formerly of this city, had been made deputy commissioner of internal revenue. He had formerly been supervisor of accounts for the bureau in Washington.

Millard has been in the revenue service "since Heck was a pup" and we will wager that there is not a man in Washington City that knows more about this department than he. His promotion is richly deserved and his hundreds of friends here at home hope to see him made Commissioner of Internal Revenue before many moons shall have waxed and waned. Congratulations, Millard, we are watching your career with eager interest and trust your greatest and highest ambitions in your untiring work for "Uncle Sam" may be fully realized.

AFTER DOG-GONE DOGS Sheriff Walker Says Tax Must Be Paid.

A field agent from the Department of Agriculture was in the city one day last week checking up the dog lists in Garrard county, finding hundreds and hundreds that had not been tax-paid. He then conferred with the county officials with a view to enforcing the dog law. Sheriff Walker was advised that the number of dogs licensed in Garrard county during the year 1920 fell many hundred below what were licensed in 1919.

Sheriff Walker was advised that a heavy penalty is attached for failure to license the dogs, such taxes being due and must be paid by January 1st, of each year and that it was the intention of the Department to prosecute all persons who failed to secure such license. This agent also told Mr. Walker that he was liable to a heavy penalty if he failed in his duties to collect such license. He is now going after the dog owners, with the result that many have come forward and paid their taxes, several hundred having called at the County Clerk's office last Monday.

Many indictments have been issued in several counties of the state against dog owners, which will be done in this county if they fail to obey the law.

Penned Up Lizzie.

A prominent farmer who lives about three miles from town has made a firm New Year resolve. He ant down one day recently and took an inventory of conditions, and then he walked firmly to the garage and drained his machine. Coming back to the house he said to his good wife: "The automobile license is due. Gas is high and farm products are low. Lizzie is out there in the garage penned up, and if you want to spend your butter and egg money feeding and running her, I haven't a word to say. But as for me—old Dobbin and the buggy are good enough I am going to ride in my one-horse shay until times get more prosperous." (Harrodsburg Herald.)

Many Dogs Poisoned.

Probably twenty-five dogs have been poisoned during the past week, both in the city and throughout the county, apparently from "buttons" being thrown promiscuously by some heartless person, who seems to have it in for all dogs in general and none in particular. Two nice "shepherds" followed Tom Conn into town last Monday and while he was in the Clerk's Office securing his dog tags, the dogs unfortunately got some poisoned meat in the "Park" and one was about dead when Mr. Conn returned five minutes later. By promptly administering a large dose of melted lard the other one was saved.

TOBACCO PRICES

Show Higher Tendency Yesterday.

Better averages were realized on the tobacco break yesterday and Tuesday and many of the growers are better pleased with the outlook, although still quite low, medium grades were decidedly higher.

About 175,000 pounds were sold over the Garrard floors Tuesday and some good averages were made over the Planters and Growers floors yesterday, many thinking that prices were from five to six cents higher than for the same grades a week ago.

A close scrutiny of the various markets throughout Kentucky, show that Lancaster is having one of the best markets in the state, notwithstanding the fact that some very fine crops of Garrard county tobacco have been marketed over other floors. The growers of Garrard county should stand solidly behind our local warehouses and not be influenced by outside parties to take their product to other markets. These two houses have been built at an enormous expense and in all probability will lose money before the season closes, but they are both run by competent and experienced men, who have been in your community most of their lives and would naturally be more interested in seeing the growers of Garrard county get the highest prices possible for their tobacco.

WINNES TRIAL

Starts At Harlan, Ky.

Charged With The Murder Of Miss Lura Parsons.

Nearly three days were consumed in the selection of a jury, to try Dr. H. C. Winnes, charged with the murder of Miss Lura Parsons, Garrard county girl and former teacher in the Pine Mountain school in Harlan county, the horrible murder occurring last September.

Night session of the court may be held all during the week in order to complete the testimony by Saturday.

The little court room was crowded with the settlers of the Pine Mountain district when the first witness, Rufus Wilson, assistant superintendent of the construction works on the Pine Mountain road, took the stand Monday night. From a large map of the scene where Miss Parsons' mutilated body was found last September, Wilson pointed out the location of the prison camp housing the convicts at work on the road. Her body was discovered 300 yards from this camp, and at that time Wilson said, four convicts were at work on the road.

Attorney A. F. Byrd, assistant prosecutor, pointed to the various locations involved in the murder mystery, and jurors and spectators craned their necks to follow, while Dr. Winnes sat with his family watching the proceedings as calmly as any in the court house.

The testimony at the morning session of the trial yesterday centered around mule tracks and killing. Three witnesses for the Commonwealth testified regarding the mule tracks. None was positive that the tracks were made by the mule Dr. Winnes rode up the trail from Dillon the day of the crime.

The witnesses were Henry Creech, Pine Mountain School, who aided in the search for Miss Parsons; Boyd Mayes, guard at the convict camp, and John Carter, City Attorney of Harlan. The latter said he examined the tracks yesterday, comparing them to shoes worn by the mule ridden by Dr. Winnes and they seem the same. It was brought, however, that other mules were shod of the same size.

The tracks indicated that the mule had circled around beside the trail, the witnesses testified. Technicalities were indulged in by both sides, the prosecution endeavoring to establish that the tracks were made by the mule ridden by the defendant, and the defense contending they were made by other mules.

Mr. Carter also testified to finding Miss Parsons' purse thirty feet from the trail and fifty yards down toward the pike. Teeth prints in the purse were shown to the jury.

The ladies of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold an exchange at the store of Goodloe and Walker Brothers next Saturday afternoon. Everything good to eat will be offered at prices commensurate with the times.

BARUCH TO AID TOBACCO MEN Will Invite Growers To Become Members Of The Marketing Association.

Through the good offices of Judge R. W. Bingham, tobacco men of Kentucky met Barney M. Baruch, former chairman of the War Industries Board, this week in New York to formulate plans to relieve the predicament to tobacco growers of Kentucky, who have the 1920 and parts of the 1919 crops on their hands because of the refusal of the manufacturers to pay even cost of production for the leaf.

Mr. Baruch is working out plans to form a marketing company to adjust the size of future crops and to insure a living price. It is Mr. Baruch's idea to have all growers members or shareholders in the marketing company. He has also initiated steps to discover how much lower grade tobacco now on the market can be sold abroad if the growers can get notes of certain foreign governments discounted at American banks.

In conference with Mr. Baruch were John W. Newman, Versailles, and J. C. Cuntrill, Georgetown, representing the growers; Dr. S. H. Halley of Lexington, the warehousemen; K. M. Barker, of Carrollton, the redryers, and Arthur Krock, for Judge Bingham.

It was the opinion of the conference that tobacco manufacturers are making a mistake in offering low prices and forcing a crop cutout, thus badly disturbing an industry which is already the subject of attack for agitators.

MRS. BEAUCHAMP Opens Warfare On Tobacco

Predicting that the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of the cigarette is coming just as surely as the Volstead act forbids the liquor traffic, Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, of Lexington, president of the Kentucky W. C. T. U., announced that if she had to choose between the two prohibitions she would bar the cigarette first. Mrs. Beauchamp spoke at the First Christian church and the Cadle Tabernacle in commemoration of the first anniversary of the Volstead act.

She denounced the Board of Education for denying her permission to speak in the Louisville schools on the cigarette evil and asked whether they are controlled by the cigarette or tobacco trust. She also deplored the growth of the cigarette habit among women, saying that one Louisville jeweler had sold 950 women's cigarette cases during the holidays. Mrs. Beauchamp denied that there is any extraordinary violation of the Volstead act, saying that traffic laws are broken much more frequently. She announced that she intends to devote the remainder of her life to the extermination of the "damnable cigarette."—Louisville Post.

COLLIVER DAWES Named As Teller Of Paris Bank.

Colliver Dawes, popular Legionaire and son of Rev. and Mrs. B. A. Dawes, of Bryantville, has just been appointed Teller of the First National Bank of Paris, Ky., so a message to the Louisville Times from Paris states. Mr. Dawes is a graduate of Georgetown College and served with credit overseas during the war as First Lieutenant. Price—Dunn.

The marriage of Mr. Gus P. Dunn, son of Mrs. W. A. Price of this city, to Miss Bertie McClure Price, was consummated last Saturday afternoon in Stanford at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fisher. Both contracting parties are well known and exceedingly popular in this county and have the best wishes of their many friends for a long life of congenial happiness.

The Interior Journal of last Tuesday has the following concerning this happy event:

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fisher was the scene of a happy occasion Saturday afternoon when Mr. Gus P. Dunn led to the marriage altar Miss Bertie McClure Price. The words which united this splendid couple were spoken by Rev. H. J. Brazelton in a beautiful and impressive manner. The bride was elegantly gowned in brown tricolette with hat to match. She carried Columbia roses with lilies of the valley and standing mid ferns, presented a picture that was indeed attractive and pleasing. After congratulations a delicious buffet lunch was served to the bridal party and their immediate families. The happy couple left on the evening train for a tour through the North and East, after which they will return to their country home near Lancaster, where they will be at home to their friends. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. A. S. Price. Her charming disposition and pleasing personality, together with her many sterling qualities, well fit her for an ideal helpmate. The man of her choice is a young gentleman Lancaster feels justly proud of possessing every characteristic that is requisite to a happy and prosperous future.

ACCEPTS CASHIERSHIP. J. Fleece Robinson To Go With Danville Bank.

Mr. J. Fleece Robinson, well known and popular here, has resigned as cashier of the Lincoln National Bank at Stanford and has accepted a similar position with the Farmers National Bank at Danville, assuming those duties February 1st. The Danville Advocate has this to say of our former townsman:

Mr. J. Fleece Robinson, who is favorably and well known to Danville and Boyle county people, and who is cashier of one of the leading banks of Stanford, will shortly move with his most estimable wife, to Danville, to take a place of importance in the official family of the Farmers' National Bank. This announcement will be received with gladness upon the part of the many warm, sincere friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson in this community. Mr. Robinson came to Danville as a young man and entered Centre College and subsequently graduated therefrom and while here was one of the most popular college men of his time. After leaving college he entered the banking business in his home city, Lancaster, and made a success from the very beginning. He later entered business in the South and made another and more pronounced success and came back to the Blue Grass country to enjoy the fruits of his ability and judgment by living a strenuous life, but he was too valuable for this section to allow to retire from the activity and was after much persuasion induced to go to Stanford to re-enter the banking business, to succeed the late William Bright, as cashier of one of the leading financial institutions of Lincoln county. Mr. Robinson has already lived here and we feel assured that he will find great pleasure in returning to live amongst our people again.

Gets In Bad.

Frank Parson, who hails from one of our adjoining counties, was arrested last Saturday night by Marshall Jim Bratton, charged with shooting a pistol on the public streets of Lancaster. He carried concealed a small pistol of thirty-two caliber, for which he said he had paid fifty cents. He was considerably under the influence of something, which he called "bozac," but from his demeanor, it must have been "booze-ac." He was taken before Judge Harris Monday morning and drew a fine of $59.00, which he could not pay and was sent back to jail. In due time he will be taken before Judge Stapp for carrying concealed, a deadly weapon. He claims to be 19 years old.

Must Advertise Five Year Deposits.

Frankfort, Ky.—Banks throughout Kentucky have just been instructed by State Banking Commissioner James P. Lewis to advertise all deposits made by it, and dividends and interest declared which have not been claimed by the person to whom it is credited within five years. Publication in two issues of a newspaper published in the county in which the bank is located is required.

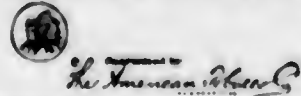

Under the law publication of unclaimed deposits, interest and dividends must be made in January and must be made under the oath of the cashier. The advertisement must also contain the source from which money is derived.

Mr. Lewis's letter, now going forward to the banks, calls attention to Article 592 of the Kentucky Statute and instructs the bankers to place the advertisements in the newspaper of "most general circulation." Banks must clip one or more of the statements from the newspaper in which they are published and mail them to his office.

Hopkinsville, Ky.,—13,000 pounds of wool which was pooled by Christian county wool growers last spring and for which a top price of 35¢ cents per pound for clear wool was refused at that time, was sold recently to a local dealer at 20 cents for clear, 15 cents for slightly burry and 10 cents for medium burry. Since the first offer was received the wool had been kept in storage there. Market conditions grew worse instead of better and the owners of the wool decided to let it go rather than hold it longer and take further chances.

PROF. THREATENS COALESS WORLD

Princeton Man Says Then We'll Have To Go To The Tropics To Keep Warm

And Finally Become Black Skinned Like Negroes.

Princeton, N. J.,—If the coal profiteers hope to clean up anything worth while in the way of easy money they have only a thousand years or so in which to do it, according to Prof. William Berryman Scott of that university. In a public lecture recently he stated that coal will be scarce in a thousand years and extinct in a few thousand, and that when it is exhausted mankind must perforce migrate to the tropics.

"Coal," he said, is a temporary thing; a few thousand years at most and it will be all gone. Then, when it is no longer possible to keep warm in our winters, we have to migrate to the tropic, and in the meantime we have to learn to live there."

The word inexhaustible, according to Prof. Scott, is one of the most pernicious in the language. "Coal, natural gas, petroleum—all are exhaustible," he said. "We are living on capital, and the time will come when all these things are gone." And then he went on to explain how in the next few thousand years the white skins we are now so proud of are extremely likely to turn.

"If man is forced to move to the tropics there is a possibility that our descendants may change in color from white to black. We know as a result of observation that people who live in hot climates have dark colored skins and hair and eyes. You know yourselves that a great many of the natives of India are just as purely Caucasian as you are and yet in color are as dark as any negro. In considering moving to the tropics there is this to remember also: It cannot be said whether dark skins in the tropics are the result of the tropics or are indirect; whether, that is to say, the people of light complexion are at a disadvantage and are ultimately weeded out.

"Certainly as things stand now the white man does not thrive in the tropics. Whether he will learn to do so in the future is another question. The civilization of the world up to now is a civilization of the temperate zones, especially the north temperate one. But since it is very rash to put bounds to the possibilities of scientific discoveries, doubtless civilization will go on when coal and other heat giving substances are exhausted, as substitute will almost inevitably be found."

State Auto Laws Are Drastic.

There is an innocent-looking little paper-backed book containing about 32 pages which, on account of its unpretentious appearance, would not ordinarily receive more than half of a look, but that same book has got teeth sufficiently long to pierce the toughest hide of any automobile operator who happens, through ignorance or otherwise, to violate the rules and regulations therein.

This little book is called "Motor Vehicles Laws of the State of Kentucky." The laws referred to in this little book were enacted by the session of 1920.

Here are a few don'ts which will spell trouble for you if you do:

No person acting for himself or another shall offer for sale or trade any automobile without then and there having in his actual physical possession the clerk's receipt for the registration fee for the current year. Penalty not less than $100 for each offense.

The same requirements are made to the buyer as for the seller of automobiles, and the same penalty attaches as to the seller.

Again: No owner shall knowingly operate or permit to be operated on a public highway an automobile upon which the brakes are defective or out of order. The same penalty as above.

Again: Who Shall Not Operate: No person under 16 years of age shall operate an automobile upon a public highway unless accompanied by the owner or some person over 21 years of age authorized by the owner, and such person or owner shall govern the operator and the movement of the automobile, and the operator shall be governed by such person or owner, provided that no person less than 14 years shall operate an automobile on a public highway at any time or under and condition, same penalty as above. Same penalty as above.

TETRAZZINI Coming To Louisville.

Famous Singer To Appear In Concert At Gypsy Smith Tabernacle On February 4th.

Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini, who is considered by many critics to be the greatest coloratura singer, will appear in concert at the Louisville Tabernacle, which is now known as the Auditorium, on Friday evening, Feb. 4th.

One of the most brilliant of careers has been Tetrazzini's. Her voice is a natural one of marvelous fluency, enabling her to execute the most difficult coloratura passages with no sign of effort. It is also of exceptional range as she sings high F sharp.

Following Tetrazzini's success in many foreign lands, W. H. Leahy, who is managing the diva's present tour, presented her at the old Tivoli Opera House in San Francisco, where she was acclaimed as one of the world's greatest sopranos. Tetrazzini later was associated with opera companies in New York and Chicago and also has made many brilliant concert tours. It is the consensus of opinion that she has never sung better than at the present time.

With the noted star at the Louisville concert there will be three assisting artists all of whom are musicians of note. They are Francesco Longo, pianist, Max Gagna, cellist, and Henri Hove, flutist, and will be heard in solo and ensemble numbers making the program one of great variety.

Bradford Mills and Merle Armitage are managing the Tetrazzini concert, which will be one of the most important musical events ever staged in Louisville. Mail orders may be sent to Grace Denton, secretary, in care of The Stewart Dry Prices are $1.10, $1.65, $2.20 and $3.30.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Lancaster Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage.

Other disorders suggest kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

Lancaster people testify to their worth. Ask your neighbor:

W. S. Carrier, merchant, Public Square, Lancaster, says: "I had dull backaches that bothered me, especially during the night and my kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Stormes' Drug Store and the backache and other signs of kidney trouble disappeared. I have had no return of the trouble."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Carrier had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Who Won The War? Smith And His Brothers.

(Columbia Record.)

We now know who it was who won the war. It was Smith and his brothers. The latest records from the War Department show that there were 54,189 Smiths in the service and that the department adds that all the Smiths who fought under the banners of the army, navy and marine corps would make fifteen regiments of a strength of 3,600 each. When we count in the strength of the Smiths we can estimate, quite precisely, who turned the scale against the Germans.

When one examines the war records and finds that there were 111 "Willie Smiths," and that 247 of them were married to "Mary Smith," is it any wonder that they undertook to sympathize with "Mary," in case of "Willie's" meeting with accident or damage on the battlefield, or sending her part of "Willie's" pay? Still, there is little complaint from the Smiths. They laugh at their names, wink the other eye and go on fighting, cutting wheat, or sawing wood as the case may be, with the utmost good humor.

We have paid tributes to the Pershings, the Fighting Bob Evanses, the George Deweys and the Alvin Yorks. Even the army mule has been placed on a pedestal. Now it is the turn of the Smiths. They were "over there," and thank the good Lord, a great number of them "came back," with the pelts of the foe hanging on their saddle horns.

Erosion Damages Kentucky Soils.

Wherever there is a barren hillside on any farm in Kentucky the operator of that farm should sow some grass seed this spring in order to secure a stand of vegetation that will stop the erosion which results from heavy rains and which causes great losses in valuable plant food elements each year to the farmers of the state, is the statement of R. E. Stephenson, of the Soils and Crops Department of the State College of Agriculture.

If gullies have already started these should be checked with stones, straw or other refuse and then a grass mixture thrown over them. Sweet clover plants with the seeds on are excellent to spread upon such places since the sweet clover may in this way not only get a start but furnish excellent pasturage, according to Mr. Stephenson.

In speaking of erosion the Soils and Crops specialist said, "It has taken natural processes millions of years to cover the earth with a layer of soil, the richest part of which is on the surface. However, by poor farming methods, leaving land without a growing crop and the cultivation of steep hillsides, a single flood of rains in a few hours may carry away a layer of fertile soil that cannot be replaced in years. It is plain then that an ounce of prevention is worth several pounds of cure in eliminating the possibility of erosion on Kentucky farms."

Political Announcement

We are authorized to announce Rev. Ed Hubbard a candidate for the nomination for sheriff of Garrard county, subject to the action of the Republican party.

To Senator Harding

On March 4th, Mr. Harding, you will be inaugurated president of the United States. You will then become the world's foremost citizen, and the power at your command will be unlimited, far greater than that of any other civilized ruler on this earth.

We believe that you have the welfare of all of our people at heart, and that it is your earnest desire to do that which is best for them.

In this belief we beseech you, Mr. Harding, to use your great influence and power in an effort to devise a more satisfactory means of marketing farm products.

The horde of middlemen and speculators who are fattening upon the life blood of a hundred million people will oppose your efforts in this direction. They do not want a more direct route from producer to ultimate consumer, because it would curtail their ill gotten gains.

But we believe the welfare of the great mass of the people is dearer to your heart than is that of the men who are nullifying the law of supply and demand.

We believe that it is within your power to place a law upon the statute books of our country that will give the farmer a fair price for his products, and yet afford the consumer an opportunity to buy them without paying extortionate prices.

The elimination by federal law of all speculation in foodstuffs, and the reduction of the number of hands through which the food must pass, will, we believe, solve this difficult problem. No reasonable person could object to a price that is regulated solely by the law of supply and demand.

If you accomplish this one reform only during your four years of office the American people will be thrice blessed that you were elected their president.

Hunting For A Goat.

The ship building program of the United States is worrying foreign governments, and Japan especially is "seeing things."

They have been so accustomed to seeing us reduced to a state of defenselessness that they cannot conceive of the possibility of our becoming a nation capable of kicking the pants of any country that may see fit to attack us.

The wealth of the United States and our facilities for increasing it dazzles the paupers of Europe, and it is with grave concern that they view us erecting a Chinese wall around our borders in the shape of a powerful navy.

Just now they are laying great stress upon the importance of universal disarmament, but they are a unit in wanting "George" to lead the procession. The "George" in this instance is the United States.

If all countries would disarm and stop fighting it would be a Godsend to the world, but certainly this country is not going to be placed in a position of "everybody's goat" by disarming while other nations retain their fighting equipment.

All Europe knows full well that it has nothing to fear from an attack by this country. If we ever fight again it will be because some other nation places us in a position where no course is open to us.

But the increasing power and importance of the American republic is disconcerting to the bankrupt governments across the seas, and their appeals for disarmament bear the earmarks of a thinly veiled attempt to reduce us to a state where they can rob and plunder us at will to say nothing of the ten billions of dollars some of them owe us and which they do not pay.

We are a peace loving people, with a sincere desire to be fair and just in our dealings with all of the nations of the earth.

We will never fight except in self defense, or to resent unforgivable affront.

But we are not a nation of rich imbeciles, as some of our European friends appear to believe.

Great armaments were first created in Europe.

Let disarmament begin at the same place, and America will gladly dismantle the mailed fist at the same rate of speed.

In the meantime European statesmen would do well to bear in mind the fact that serving as an international goat does not appeal to the average American.

What's Your Idea?

Everyone has an idea of some kind or other which he simply can't lose—that is, he has a mind capable of formulating one.

It is usually a fixed idea, and it comes to him in his business hours, in his moments of relaxation, in his dreams, and sometimes it will intrude itself into the Sunday worship.

Even the most sublime flights of oratory from the lips of the minister can't keep that idea in subjection.

Why?

Because the human mind is always groping in search of an opportunity for improvement.

The hen could deposit her egg on the ground if she would. But she doesn't. She must have a better place, and if man does not provide her with a nest she goes out and makes one for herself. Often she doesn't like the nest that man provides for her. Then she hunts until she finds one to her liking.

It is her dominant idea, and she can't lose it.

Man is the same.

He may have myriads of ideas flitting in and out of his brain, but there is always one which overshadows all others.

Sometimes fortune is kind to him and he is able to realize on his idea—to capitalize it to the benefit of himself and mankind.

Capitalizing ideas has made America a great country, and its inhabitants a people noted throughout the world for their progressiveness.

Ideas have done much for our own town, and for its people, and for our countryside.

Perhaps some of those ideas were developed in your own fertile brain, and were passed on to others, and improved, and put into execution for our common good.

Everywhere we look, everything we see, is the result of someone's idea, for developing ideas has made this town what it is.

But we have not reached the limit—in fact, we have only scratched the surface.

Every normal brain in our midst contains some idea that would be of benefit to the community if it were only given the light of publicity.

What is yours?

Possibly it has been revolving around your hat for years waiting for an opportunity to break out, and expand, and produce something worth while.

Why cage it up longer?

This is your home. Our people are your people, and you are ours, and that which benefits one will benefit all.

Make it public. Others may be able to add a finishing touch here, and another there, until it is dressed up into a monument of community enterprise and progressiveness.

Give time and nourishment, the tiniest of roots will grow into giant trees.

It may be so with that idea you are secreting in your brain.

Let it out. Others are waiting to hear it, and we are waiting to give it publicity.

American Legion News

In the year past the American Legion doubled in membership and added 3,417 posts, according to National Headquarters. All records for growth, however, were broken by the Women's Auxiliary, which started the year 1920 with 5,000 members and finished with an enrollment of 200,000 and a total of 1,695 units. All state departments registered substantial gains and new posts were formed in the following countries: Argentine Republic, Belgium, Chile, China, Guatemala, Japan, Poland, Samoa, Santa Domingo and Peru.

Checks received by the national treasurer of the American Legion to provide for the adoption of French war orphans now total $4,650. This amount is enough to care for sixty-two orphans for the period of one year. The greater part of the adoptions were made by Legion posts in many parts of the country but a number of individuals contributed.

Lieut. Colonel H. C. Goss, a Cleveland member of the American Legion, has suggested the use of toxic gas grenades as a police weapon in Cleveland's fight against bantry and crime. Circular letters urging all of the 7,000 Legion members in the county to join the police auxiliary have been issued from headquarters following the acceptance by Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald of the Legion's offer of assistance.

"I thought I had a rather unusual name," said E. W. Gallenith, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion "until I received a letter from another E. W. Gallenith, Jr., a member of Morristown Post No. 2 of the Legion at Atlanta, Ga." As far as is known, the two Legionnaires are not related.

Through the efforts of the American Legion, United Spanish War Veterans, Grand Army of the Republic and citizens of Hoquiam, Wash. a large three-story American Veterans' Building, a memorial to fighting men of all wars, has just been completed in that city. The building includes a large lodge and ball room, library, ladies rest room, lounge room and space on the ground floor for a bank.

In accordance with the national era of good feeling between the American Legion and Organized Labor, the Central Trades and Labor Union of East St. Louis, Ill., one of the strongest labor bodies in the country, has passed a resolution placing the organization on record as being entirely in harmony with Legion's national policies and recommending that all its members, who are eligible, affiliate with the Legion. The Central Trades Council of Oklahoma voted to co-operate with the Legion in meeting the problem of unemployment. Preference in employment for union men who are veterans will be given by the secretaries of various affiliated unions by direction of the Council.

Thanks to members of the American Legion post at East Las Vegas, N. M. for their efforts to aid the sick and wounded veterans were voiced in a letter to the American Legion Weekly from disabled ex-service men of Valmore Industrial Sanatorium, Valmore, N. M.

Legionnaires in New Orleans, La. have something to say in maintaining law and order in that city. The new superintendent of police, judge of the First City Criminal Court, three assistant district attorneys and three assistant city attorneys are members of local posts of the Legion.

Recognizing the value of a live American Legion post to a community, the civic authorities of Dubois, Pa. have not only aided the local post by speaking a good word for it but also have arranged for the municipality to pay four-fifths of the rent on the post's club rooms.

A true American Legion romance culminated in the marriage of Roy E. Patrick and Miss Estelle Agans, both charter members of the Frederick Phillips Post, of Council Grove, Kas. To be sure that the ceremony was sufficiently Legionnaire, the services of a minister, also a charter member of the post were obtained.

More than two thousand compensation claims of former service men were taken up by the Service Section of the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion during the last year. The same section expedited the settlement by the government of 1,500 cases within the Federal Board for Vocational Education and 1,400 claims with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. Other veterans' affairs handled were allotments, and allowances, liberty bonds, retainer and travel pay, lost discharges, baggage and clothing and state bonuses. Free notary service was also provided for 6,000 former service men, regardless of Legion membership.

Following close upon the heels of the Indiana Department, the Iowa Legionnaires have started a basketball league in which ninety teams composed of ex-service men are playing for the state championship.

Farmers Of Carlisle

PERFECT ASSOCIATION.

Approximately 50 Carlisle county farmers were enrolled as charter members of the Carlisle County Strawberry and Sweet Potato Association at a recent meeting of more than 100 farmers of that section of the state which was held for the purpose of finding a suitable substitute for tobacco as a farm crop. The new association will further the growth and marketing of sweet potatoes and strawberries.

Organization of the association, which will have its shipping station at Arlington, was modeled after the Tennessee plan, according to a report of county agent B. A. Hensley, who co-operated with the State College of Agriculture and the farmers in perfecting the plan. A constitution and by laws have been up and plans made to increase the membership as rapidly as possible. Sweet potatoes have always been an important crop in the county, more than 20 carloads being shipped out each year but strawberry growing has just been started, according to Mr. Hensley.

The following announcement has been received by Lancaster friends and relatives:

Mrs. A. S. Price announces the marriage of her daughter Bertie McClure to Mr. Gus P. Dunn Saturday, January twenty second Stanford, Kentucky.

As Clear As Mud.

The man had just informed the Pullman agent that he wanted a Pullman berth.

"Upper or lower?" asked the agent.

"What's the difference?" asked the man.

"A difference of 50 cents in this case," replied the agent. "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower, you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down when you get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower."

But the poor man had fainted.

Lancaster School Notes

Now that examinations are over everyone is eagerly looking forward to the outcome. The teachers are very busy looking over the examination papers, every teacher having nearly one hundred twenty-five papers to grade.

The school has begun the second year. The school has begun the second year getting accustomed to the changes in the schedule and the new arrangements of classes.

Under the new schedule the Senior class having all classes in the morning, has been permitted by Mr. Boyd to remain away from school every afternoon except the laboratory periods which come on Tuesday and Thursday. This is highly esteemed by them and they hope to show their appreciation.

The drive for the subscriptions for the "Country Gentleman" came to an end last Monday week. The school fell short of the minimum number of subscriptions, which were 250, getting only 176. As we fell below our quota we will not get the premium, a moving picture machine, but as we get credit with one-half the subscription money we expect to purchase a cheaper machine. The prizes offered at the start of the drive will not be given, but the three following prizes will be given: a book to the room getting the greatest number of subscriptions, three dollars to the pupil having the most subscriptions and a silver eversharp pen to the second.

Social News Column.

Rev. Hudson taught some of the High School classes during Mr. Boyd's absence Monday.

A solid Geometry class has been organized for the remaining term, having two classes a week. It is composed of most of the members of the Senior class.

Rev. Hudson visited the school last Tuesday morning during chapel exercises.

Miss Syler has now organized a sewing club and all the school girls have been very busy collecting all the essentials for this work.

Prof. Boyd has been teaching the Freshmen Latin Class since the beginning of the second term. We are sure we will like our new teacher and although we have very much to give up our former teacher, Miss Sexton. We have done fine work under her during the year 1920 and gained a great deal of Latin knowledge.

Robert Watson Davidson was the winner of the $3.00, offered for first prize in the contest for subscriptions. He got 29 in the two weeks. Louis Haselden got second in a close race with 27.

Mrs. Noland will give her mid-year recital Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Grins And Groans.

Sam and Ruth were studying Geometry together when Miss Robinson happened to glance over their shoulders and this was what she heard:

Sam—"I can prove that you love me."

Ruth—"How?"

Sam—"I love you, therefore I am a lover. All the world loves a lover. You are all the world to me, therefore you love me."

Laverne H.—"I'd like to try on that hat over there."

Miss Bell—"I'm sorry, dear, but that is the lampshade."

"I sent you a kiss over the telephone," said S. D. when he met Katherine. I hope you understood it."

"Oh, yes," she answered. I understood, all right enough. But to me a kiss over the telephone is like a straw hat."

"A straw hat?" S. D. echoed.

"Why, Katherine coolly answered, "It isn't felt."

Stella Herron—"What was the excitement down the street?"

Arthur—"Oh, Henry in a reverie ran into Martha Ward in a tatum."

Stella—"Were the machines badly damaged?"

Sam Elliott was standing in front of the warehouse as a farmer drove up.

Farmer—"Are you a stock-holder in this warehouse?"

Sam—"Yes, Sir!"

Farmer—"Well just hold my team a few minutes."

Paul Morrow—"A T. Scott and Son have commissioned me to collect their candy account."

S. D.—Then I congratulate you on getting a permanent job!"

Jesse—"Hessie Marie, what are you making all that noise for?" Hessie—"I am trying to get my book to sit against your back and it is awfully particular where it sits."

Miss Robinson—(to the class) "In what language was the Bible written?"

Class—"Hebrew."

Claude Rice (waking up)—"Miss Robinson."

Miss Robinson—"Yes, Claude Rice."

Claude Rice—"Mine's written in American."

Dollars And Titles.

An American widow of wealth has followed the nauseating example of many others and has married a foreign title—this time a Greek prince.

She is reaping the bitter experience of others by being royally snubbed in Athens while the prince is presumably enjoying the money with which she purchased him.

Some day we will have a law forbidding the incomes from such fortunes from being taken out of the country, other than a bare sufficiency for a person's comfortable support.

When that time comes foreign princelings and noblemen will suddenly discover that American heiresses have ceased to be prizes in the matrimonial market.

But in the meantime self-respecting Americans will continue to be humiliated by reading of such spectacles as the one that has recently been enacted in Athens.

A woman who is not worth marrying for love is not worth having at any price, and no self-respecting man ever marries a woman for her money.

The alarming increase of crime in the big cities is causing grave concern to the smaller towns and rural communities.

Sooner or later many of these hard-hearted criminals, gradually driven from the cities, will begin to terrorize the more sparsely settled sections of the country.

It is a condition to which we cannot look forward with any degree of equanimity. It may not materialize to any great extent, but the danger is too acute to be ignored.

Unbearable conditions require drastic methods of correction.

A practical method of eliminating this form of crime would be to make robbery at the point of a gun punishable by death, with no alternative of a fine or imprisonment, the culprit to remain in jail without bail until he is either legally executed or acquitted.

The greatest public service our state legislatures could perform at the present time would be prompt enactment of such a law.

The law forbids private citizens the right to carry a gun for self protection.

It should furnish them the protection it denies them the privilege of providing for themselves.

Keep Going!

Everybody expects 1921 to be a prosperous year, but that is no reason why anyone should slacken his efforts. That is the one thing that should be avoided.

The situation calls for energetic and persevering production on the part of all people, regardless of how great or how humble their station in life may be.

We can not expect great prosperity to come to us if we leave the burden of production to a few, nor can we expect confidence to be maintained if idleness and shiftlessness prevail where thrift and energy are possible.

We have reached the crest of our wave of depression which follows every great war and are descending safely on the other side.

What we want to do now is to keep going until we float into the harbor of commercial sanity and permanent prosperity.

Production, conservation and the square deal in business will get us there.

A new shoe is advertised as the joint product of master minds—but not from the league of nations.

It is said that in a 500 mile race a man can walk a horse to death. If you don't believe it, try it.

And still, it is possible for the meanest of cusses to be a man of good habits—provided they are riding ones for women.

It's comparatively easy to offend a witty person. Just laugh at the wrong time when he tells his favorite joke.

When The Paper Doesn't Come.

My father he says the paper reads ain't put up right.

He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night.

He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read.

And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.

He tossed it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the wedding's and sports like all get out;

He reads the social don's with a most derisive shout.

He says they made the papers for the women folks alone.

He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;

He says of information it doesn't contain a crumb—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through.

He doesn't miss an item or a want ad, that is true.

He says, "they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys."

I'm going to take a day some time an' go an' put 'em wise;

Some times it seems as though they must be deaf, blind and dumb—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

Telephone Growth

Amazing.

The growth of the telephone since its invention only 40 years ago, has been amazing. Today there are approximately 12,500,000 telephones in use in the United States and the messages carried total over twenty-two billions per year, or approximately 211 for each man, woman and child in the nation. There are nearly 30,000,000 miles of wire and this equipment cost the staggering total of two billions of dollars, about 700,000 individuals being owners of the securities.

It Is Easy To Imitate Names

The public is constantly being swindled by imitations, counterfeits and substitutes that resemble in name and appearance Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is because the original Foley's is so good, so reliable and so well known that these frauds find sale.

Always Has It In His Home

T. J. McCall, Athens, O., writes: "We have used Foley's Honey and Tar in our home for several years and find it almost invaluable for coughs and colds, and especially for relief of our children. We are never without it and cannot too highly recommend it for a cough, cold, or croup for either grown-up people or children."

Foley's
Honey and Tar
COMPOUND

IS PLEASANT TO TAKE, and soothes the raw, inflamed surfaces; stops the rasping, strangling feeling in the throat. It is made of the purest, freshest and finest ingredients to be had, contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and costs twice as much to make as any imitation of it.

For more than thirty years Foley's Honey and Tar has been used with satisfaction and success.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere.

YOU CAN'T DODGE IT. Once In Awhile Your Blood Clogs And Your Vitality Runs Down.

THEN TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN
You'll Pick Up Again Quickly With Plenty Of Red Blood Corpuscles

Physicians nowadays take a blood test when you are run down. They count the red corpuscles in your blood. If there are too few they give you a tonic for your blood. It happens right along. They are always on the lookout for indications of weak blood.

Why? Because they know when your blood is weak your resistance to disease is low. Your vitality and energy is run down.

You can tell when your blood is weak. You look pale, feel tired. You are not ill, but you don't feel right. You don't want to do things. That is the time to take the well known tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. The medicinal value is exactly the same. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan, 'Gude's.' The full name, 'Gude's Pepto-Mangan,' should be on the package.

BEEF DEMONSTRATION To Feature Program Of Farm Con- vention.

According to those in charge of the program, one of the main features of the Ninth Annual Farm and Home Convention to be held at the State College of Agriculture, Feb. 1 to 4th, inclusive, will be the carcass demonstration on beef cattle by John Gosling, the noted meat specialist from Kansas City, Mo. The demonstration which is expected to be of special interest to the cattle breeders and feeders of Kentucky will be with pure-bred two-year old steer, one pure-bred yearling steer fed especially for the occasion by the State Experiment Station and probably a scrub steer for the purpose of comparison.

After Mr. Gosling has judged the live animals at the meeting of the Kentucky Beef Cattle Breeders' Association Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 2nd., and the audience allowed to guess the percentage of carcass that the animals will dress out they will be slaughtered at the university farm abattoir and allowed to cool out until Friday afternoon. At this time they will probably be brought before a meeting of the Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association where the weights of the carcasses will be given and judging of the meat done by Mr. Gosling. Prizes will also be awarded at this time to the persons most nearly guessing the percentage of meat that the animals would yield, according to a statement made by Prof. E. S. Good, head of the Animal Husbandry Department of the College.

Where Children Are Starving.

In Austria-Hungary and Czechoslovakia, there are 1,000,000 War orphans. Five thousand of these have been wandering like animals in the Rutenian Mountains.

In the Baltic Republics, there are 150,000 orphans. Many thousands will be unable to attend school next winter for lack of shoes and other necessary clothing.

Poland has 500,000 orphans, the majority living in refuge camps instead of homes.

In Roumania there are 200,000 orphans.

Jugo-Slavia has 600,000 some living in devastated villages from which adults have fled.

In Soviet Russia there are three to four million orphans.

These figures vouched for by a Bulletin of the American Relief Administration reveal a tragedy of childhood probably unequalled in the history of the world.

Through the European Relief Council, Herbert Hoover is asking Americans to give $33,000,000 with which to save the lives of 3,500,000 children. A contribution may be sent to any Bank in Kentucky. Address Richard Bean, Kentucky Treasurer, European Relief Council.

TANKAGE Increases Egg Production Of Warren County Hens.

An increase in the egg production of 80 hens from four and one-half dozen during the latter half of November to 31 dozen during December by the addition of tankage to the ration being fed has been reported by Mrs. J. N. Harris, of Woodburn, Warren County, who is conducting a poultry demonstration farm in co-operation with county agent W. H. Rogers and State College of Agriculture. With the increased egg production an increase in profit from $1.55 for half of November to $25.33 for December was realized by Mrs. Harris, who reports excellent results from the entire demonstration. The ration which she is now feeding is one recommended by the state college and is composed of 70 pounds of cracked corn and 30 pounds of heavy oats for the grain mixture and 50 pounds of shipstuf, 30 pounds of corn meal and 20 pounds of meat scrap for the dry mash mixture. Equal parts of grain and dry mash were fed.

In speaking of the results obtained under date of Dec. 1st, Mrs. Harris said, "When I started keeping the record Nov. 15th, my hens were not laying much. I started to feed the tankage and am now seeing a decided improvement. I already have seven new hens laying some of which are pullets."

During December $17.95 worth of eggs were sold on the market and $9.42 worth of poultry. The eggs and poultry used in the home were valued at $5.65 bringing the total receipts for the month up to $33.03. Mrs. Harris' accounts show that it cost her $7.70 during the month for feed, $4.20 of which went for meal and $3.50 worth for corn. A record of the time shows that it took Mrs. Harris seven and one-half hours during the month to attend to the poultry.

County Agent Rogers reports that farmers in the entire community are now using Mrs. Harris' system of feeding with their chickens. "The sudden increase in egg production has also aroused interest in the Harris family and members of it watch the record each day much the same as a baseball fan watches the scoreboard," said County Agent Rogers.

Thousands Jobless In New York City

New York City is flooded with jobless men. Free lodging houses, except the Municipal Lodging House, are over-crowded every night with self-respecting objects of charity, men who are eager to work but who cannot find work to do. Most of them are laborers who have been "laid off" in the other places and have drifted here in hope of finding work. A few are "white collar men"—salesmen in stores and clerks—who were discharged the first of the year and have been unable to form new connections.

More than eighty men applied to the Salvation Army's Social Service Department on Saturday for meals or sleeping quarters or both. Practically every one of them had within the week made application for employment to the Army's employment bureau. Many of them have registered with the Department of Street Cleaning for snow shovelling.

PULASKI COUNTY Leads Standardization Work.

With three distinct sections in the county outlined and organized, Pulaski County has taken the lead in the poultry standardization work which is being conducted by the State College of Agriculture in 70 different counties of the State. The breed which has been adopted as the standard in that section of the state is the Barred Plymouth Rock and all breeders in the county whose products reach the standard are admitted to membership in the Pulaski County Barred Plymouth Rock Association. The three sections which have been organized are the Science Hill, the Cumberland River and the Somerset sections. The slogan which was adopted at the beginning of the 1921 campaign by the Pulaski breeders was "Bar The County."

A. P. Vaughn is secretary of the Science Hill section which is in the northern part of the county. As each member pays his dues he is given a number and this number is stamped on each egg which the member sells. At the present time there are 12 members in this sectional organization and all their eggs will be sold to the large hatcheries in the northern part of Kentucky and around Cincinnati.

The Cumberland River section which has headquarters at Burdette has 18 members at the present time and has already received orders for 1,500 eggs. This section is in the southern part of the county and will supply eggs to McCreary County which will be used by members of the boys' and girls' club and by miners. The Stearns Coal Company has placed the order for 1,500 eggs for its employees. George Williams is secretary of this section.

The Somerset section of which Roy McDaniels is secretary has just recently been organized but contains 10 members already. Eggs from this section will be used by county agent R. O. Hate in cooperation with local banks in furthering the standardization work in the county in general.

Kentucky Crop Report.

The annual revised estimates of acreage and production of crops in Kentucky, for 1920, issued Dec. 31 by the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna, show an estimated production of 100,650,000 bus. of corn; 467,500,000 pounds of tobacco of all types in the State; 5,610,000 bus. of wheat; 8,225,000 bus. of oats; 6,435,000 bus. of Irish potatoes; and 1,508,000 tons of hay.

The estimates for all the crops are given in the accompanying tables, and indicate increases in production of corn, oats, barley, potatoes, apples, peaches, pears, sorghum, soy beans, and clover seeds; the same production as in 1919 of beans, cowpeas and sweet potatoes; and decreased production of tobacco, wheat, rye, and hay. Hurley tobacco production in the State increased (according to unrevised estimates) from about 213,000,000 pounds in 1919 to about 234,500,000 pounds in 1920. These estimates may be slightly revised later when more complete checking up of yields is possible. The reduction of dark tobacco acreage in Western Kentucky together with the light yield in some counties in 1920 reduced the estimates of the State's total tobacco crop of all types from 438,000,000 pounds in 1919 to 467,500,000 pounds of all types together in 1920.

The acreage of wheat sown in Kentucky in the fall of 1920 is estimated at 625,900 acres, the same as in 1919, the condition of the crop Dec. 1, 1920, being 84 per cent of normal compared to 80 Dec. 1, 1919, and an average condition Dec. 1, of 90. The total acreage of wheat sown in the United States in the fall of 1920 is estimated at 40,605,000 acres, or 97.2 percent of the acreage sown in the fall of 1919. The condition of the United States wheat crop Dec. 1, 1920 is given as 87.9 per cent of normal compared to 85.2 Dec. 1, 1919, and a ten year average Dec. 1, of 88.4 per cent.
